GLOBAL LOVE DAY, May 1

It's all about LOVE in global proportions! The Love Foundation is once again inviting people around the world to join together in celebrating and expanding LOVE during a one day planetary event encompassing all nations, all people, and all life on May 1, 2005. This second annual Global Love Day with the theme "Love Begins With Me" will take place as various celebrations around the globe.

Since its initial launch last year, The Love Foundation has already received responses from individuals and organizations in over 60 countries along with over a dozen proclamations from US mayors and governors endorsing the idea. Awareness for this event is spreading largely by the internet and numerous volunteers. By accessing the Foundation's main web site at <http://www.thelovefoundation.com> people of all backgrounds and businesses from around the world are sharing their support.

The Love Foundation is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization and their purpose and vision is to further the understanding and application of unconditional love through education, research and charitable programs. For more information, contact John T. Goltz at email jtgoltz@thelovefoundation.com.

Women Work to Raise Breast Cancer Awareness

—Conference on the Latest Treatments to Be Held in Miami

Melissa Etheridge, beautiful and bald and a breast cancer survivor, said it all at the Grammy's when she sang Janis Joplin's hit, Piece of My Heart, belting out "I'm gonna show you baby that a woman can be tough". The people behind The Fourth Annual Miami Day of Caring for Breast Cancer Awareness, to be held on Saturday April 30, from 7:30am to 3:00pm at the Parrot Jungle Island, 1111 Parrot Jungle Trail, Miami, want to add educated, encouraged and empowered to the list of things a woman can be. The Day of Caring is planned and produced completely by a group of women volunteers, many of whom are breast cancer survivors themselves.

Seminars taught by local medical, research and breast cancer support experts, and by survivors themselves on topics such as prevention, treatment, nutrition and survivorship issues including intimacy and living with metastatic cancer. A very special fashion show at 1:00pm - models will all be breast cancer survivors and a comprehensive resource center will provide important information on support groups, events, and other services.

The cost is $55.00, which includes breakfast, seminars and luncheon. CEU credits. For more information contact Debbie Curtin, 305 856 1082, curtind@bellsouth.net.
