

Submission of Poem - Love Begins With Me

Global Love Day 2025

I am love, I am divine.
I am the grapes that bloom on the grapevine.
I am the warmth of a fiery hearth,
I am the secrets people desire to unearth.

You can find me in flowers,
or the way light shimmers on water.
Skip a stone to see ripples,
hug your mother or father.

Love is all around us,
in the quietest of ways.
Love begins with me,
it shines in me,
it's the way it stays.

When in dire need of love, look within.
It's always inside you, love always wins.
Make choices from love, not fear.
When you do, everything becomes clear.

Because love is not just gentle.
Love is protection, love isn't simple,
It lets complexity in.
You are love experiencing itself,
feel everything, let love delve.

Maria Isabel Restituto,
California, United States